

Socially Intelligent Computational Systems

Social Computational Systems

Support computations involving groups of humans and algorithms.

Provide services that rely on aggregate information or collaboration between agents with conflicting goals.

Learning from the crowd

How to take advantage the wealth of information and manpower on the Web (twitter, blogs, other online content)?

